WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage announced today that 1,000 women will picket the White House during the inauguration on March 4. The parade which had been planned for that day has been abandoned.

CALL TO ST. AUGUSTINE BY DEATH OF HER FATHER

(The Associated Press.)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Jan. 12.—Mrs. F. L. Middleton received a telephone message yesterday morning from St. Augustine, informing her of the death of her father, Edwin Plowman, who had been ill for the past two or three weeks. Mr. Plowman was 67 years of age. Mrs. Middleton left from this city by train in the afternoon for St. Augustine to attend the funeral which was held this morning.

Believed No One Perished When $4,000,000 Fire and Explosions Wrecked Plant

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Firemen today cautiously approached the ruins of the Canadian Car Foundry company's eighty-acre ammunition plant near Kingsland, N. J., which burned yesterday.
There have been no official reports of the loss of any lives. Whether any nearby residents who fled blindly through the Hackensack marshes to escape falling shells perished is not known.
Many houses adjacent to the plant were riddled by shells. The four million dollar loss is confined largely to the explosion of shells loaded for the Russian government. The shells continued to explode this morning.
The police are today searching the Hackensack meadows on the chance that there may be some injured persons there.
The superintendent of the plant said today that he did not believe that anyone perished either from the fire or because of explosions.
The plant was located one-half mile east of Kingsland, in which were stored hundreds of thousands of 3-inch shells destined for the Russian government. Approximately 1,400 men were employed in the plant, which comprised between forty and fifty buildings and covered about eighty acres of ground. No munitions were manufactured at Kingsland, but the plant was used for the filling of shells, the chief constituent used being trinitrotoluol, one of the most powerful explosives known.
While it was estimated that nearly 500,000 shells exploded, primary fuses or caps had not been attached to them and consequently their detonation did not cause the havoc that follows their explosion when used on European battlefronts. The roar of the shells, which sounded like a cannonade of heavy guns, was heard for miles, however, and the concussion shook buildings within a wide radius of the plant.
Two big magazines in which were stored trinitrotoluol, nitric acid, picric acid and powder were not reached by the flames and it was believed tonight they were not in danger.

Thaw May Have Taken Poison To End His Checkered Career

(The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Harry K. Thaw may be able to leave St. Mary's hospital within two weeks unless he took poison in addition to slashing his throat and the veins of his wrists in an attempt to end his checkered career yesterday.
Physicians at the hospital state that several slow poison tablets were found in his pockets, but whether or not he took any of the poison cannot yet be determined. Thaw refuses to answer all questions regarding the poison.

TAUNTED BY REPUBLICANS "LEAK" RESOLUTION SENT BACK TO RULES COMMITTEE

COLDEST OF WEATHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The coldest of weather prevails here, the temperature today being seven above zero. Steamships are coming in covered with ice and report snowstorms and unusually cold weather at sea.

BRITISH DRIVEN BACK WITH HEAVY LOSSES, SAYS BERLIN REPORT

(The Associated Press.)
The British made two attacks in the Somme region this morning, according to the Berlin report. They gained ground north of Beaumont but were later driven back with heavy losses, says the statement.
The thrust near Serre failed and the Teutons in Rumania have captured Laburtea, Berlin said. The Teutons drove the Russians back toward Sereth between Braila and Galatz. Violent fighting on the northern end of the Russian front has increased.
The Russian attacks along the Vilna-Lvinsk railroad were repulsed, says the German statement. Minor operations are reported on the other fronts.

LIVE OAK CHAPTER, O. E. S., PRESENTED WITH PICTURE

At the last regular meeting of Live Oak Chapter, No. 1, Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Geo. F. Smith presented the chapter with a large, framed photograph of her late husband, who was a past grand worthy patron of the O. E. S., of Florida and was for a number of years a worthy patron of Live Oak chapter. The picture of Mr. Smith, which is a gift highly prized by the chapter, has been hung in the east section, directly behind the chair occupied so long by him when filling the position of worthy patron.

REPUBLICANS DARE DEMOCRATS TO GO FURTHER WITH PROBE

CHARGE THAT NEWS OF PRESIDENT'S NOTE LEAKED TO WALL STREET OVER PRIVATE WIRE FROM CAPITOL

(The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Taunted by republicans, who charged that they dare not investigate the leak charges further, the democrats of the house of representatives sent the Wood resolution back to the rules committee this afternoon for further action. No vote was taken.
The "leak" investigation was brought before the house when the democratic majority of the rules committee reported the resolution adversely. The republican minority of the committee contended that a leak had been shown.
Representative Campbell, republican opposing the majority report on the resolution, said that evidence had been produced which showed that the firm of which the president's brother-in-law is a member had a private wire to wall street. He said testimony had been given that the leak reached Wall street over a private wire. He contended that the majority action gave no opportunity to investigate over what wire the leak traveled.

ENGLISH WEDDING MORE SIMPLE SINCE THE WAR

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
LONDON, Dec. 30.—As a result of the war savings committee appeal for less extravagance, weddings conducted in Belgravia's most fashionable church have been shorn of their most expensive trimmings. Church decorations and orders for bouquets have been reduced about 90 per cent and the flowers which used to be sent now go to the hospitals. Bridesmaids have almost been dispensed with and the bride usually carries a prayer book instead of an expensive bouquet, while her dress is simplicity itself.
The verger at the famous St. Georges church, Hanover square, says that while the wedding awning used to go up many times a month, it has only been used twice since last August. There is scarcely ever a choral service now and the bride and groom more often drive direct to the railway station than to a reception.

APPROVE REPLY TO PRESIDENT WILSON

(The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Morning newspapers here unanimously approved the State's reply to the president's note.

(The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Wilson began a careful and deliberate study of the note received from the allies.

The president discussed the note with the cabinet and the State Department. All quarters seem to be of the opinion that the reply seemed to offer a way to early peace.

TEXT OF ENTENTE NOTE.
Translation of the French text of the entente note, as cabled by Ambassador Sharp at Paris follows:
The allied governments have received the note which was delivered in the name of the government of the United States on the 19th of December, 1916. They have studied with the care imposed upon them by the exact realization which they have of the gravity of the hour and the sincere friendship which binds them to the American people. In a general way they wish to declare that they pay tribute to the elements of the sentiment with which

LADIES' AND MEETING WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

An unusually pleasant meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Seabreeze Baptist church, which is located on the corner to Glenview boulevard and Peninsular drive, was held Wednesday afternoon. After the social hour a business meeting took place and the following officers were elected: Mrs. E. J. Ranslow, president; Mrs. W. B. Hatch, vice-president; Miss Anna Weitzel, secretary; Mrs. J. E. Williams, treasurer.

SUNDAY SERVICES OF THE SEABREEZE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Sunday services to be held at the Seabreeze Baptist church, Sunday, January 14, will be as follows:

Morning worship at 11:00. The pastor will preach on the subject, "The Optimism of Jesus."

Evening service at 7:00. Pastor's subject, "Does It Pay to Be a Christian?"

Bible school at 9:45 in the morning with a fine adult class led by Rev. Geo. Bisby.

SEABREEZE

J. C. Crosby and family of Milwaukee, Wis., who several weeks ago leased the Sydney Haigh home on the corner of Ocean boulevard and Peninsular drive, have arrived for the remainder of the season. Mr. Crosby is the president of the Crosby Transfer company of Milwaukee.

Mrs. N. W. Ballantyne and party of New Cumberland, W. Va., arrived Thursday evening to occupy the Will C. Greene cottage on Ocean avenue for the next three weeks. These people are relatives of Mrs. L. E. Treadaway of Daytona Beach, and have spent the greater part of the past two seasons at the beach.

James E. Farraday of Boston, Mass., came in Thursday afternoon to spend a few weeks at the beach. Mr. Farraday was a visitor here ten years ago, when Seabreeze was so well known as City Beautiful. He says that the town has lived well up to its old name. Mr. Farraday will stay at a local hotel during his sojourn here.

Self Denial. Great is self denial. Life goes all to ravel and tatters where that enters not.—Carlyle.

DAYTONA BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Seman, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., arrived Wednesday afternoon to spend the next six weeks at the Seaside Inn on Seabreeze avenue.

I. M. Weed, and family who recently arrived from the north have rented the W. R. Phillips cottage on the corner of Hollywood avenue and Harvey street.

A. J. and F. J. Barlow, whose northern home is Indianapolis arrived Thursday afternoon to spend a winter at the beach. These men have never before come south and are greatly enjoying the scenes and attractions which are strange to them.

Many Daytona Beach people found it necessary to arise bright and early both yesterday and today to replenish the kindling pile which had been allowed to remain small during the past few weeks of warm weather. Branch and Nicholson's wagons have been busily employed in hauling wood to various places of residence so that everyone may keep warm.

Use for Old Pianos. A Labrador tribe, it is said, made the barrels stolen from a wrecked whaler serve as chimney tops; the West Indians utilized Timothy Dexter's warming pans for sugar ladders, and the Shans find no worse use for English beer bottles than to stick them up as household gods to keep away evil spirits. But the drollest instance of converted usage occurred when that adventurous Frenchman, De Tonnant, while in Patagonia, gave an old chief a worn-out piano which he had bought for 80 francs. A few days after making this generous present, De Tonnant went one morning to pay an early visit to the Patagonian. He found him sleeping peacefully with his wife inside the piano, from which he had carefully removed sounding board, strings, etc., and which, thus transformed, constituted a not uncomfortable bedstead.

Safety in Moderation.

A leading physician, famous for his scientific attainments, has published a statistical work on apoplexy. He says it is the lazy, thick-set, short-necked individual who eats and drinks more than he should, the most frequently falls a victim to this disease, and he draws the conclusion that the majority of seizures occur on Sunday and Monday, owing probably to the greater indulgence in the joys of the table on the day of rest and the excitement consequent on the return to business. Big eaters and cocoa drinkers, other ice abstemious are just as liable to it as heavy drinkers, and he adds that "alcohol is frequently made the scapegoat for attacks of this character when really excessive eating is to blame." His report concludes with the sage advice that the only cure which is really a preventive, lies in moderation.

Making of Mistakes.

Big men make big mistakes. Little men could not make big mistakes if they tried; they haven't the capacity. The fellow of strong personality, the man who grabs at an opportunity with all his might, and goes straight toward its accomplishment hurriedly, is more likely to make big mistakes than the weakened of the world who are timid and afraid. But the mistakes do not amount to so much with him—that is the point. The little fellow who makes a mistake is lost. But the big fellow is only encouraged by making a mistake, and often is able to drag success over his errors as a giant might drag a bull through the underbrush. The little fellow is not to be blamed, but the big fellow is to be admired.

Experience the Great Teacher.

It is frequently said, "A man must have sorrow in order to sympathize with those in sorrow." It is also said that beggars and people in need of charity go to the poor with greater prospect of relief than to those who "have got riches and have need of nothing," for the poor know the pinch of poverty, and they can imagine the need. It makes little impression for us to condemn those who yield to temptations that we have never felt. We have not yet "overcome" them, and our virtue has not been bought by struggle—the price humanity pays for experience and the right to the throne of judgment. Furthermore, when we actively plunge in and overcome our own faults the throne of judgment becomes a throne of mercy. Struggle teaches us love.

Women's Speeches.

I have never heard a woman make a really bad speech; on the other hand, when I think of the men I have heard on platforms, at dinner tables in the pulpit a dumb feeling of despair overtakes me, especially when I think of the sermons that are listened to every Sunday—which, indeed, the majority of our population refuses nowadays to listen to. Something like 100,000 men preach every Sunday. Many of them ought never to speak in public at all. There are not, in fact, enough men to go around. We compel tens of thousands of men, devoid of the gift of eloquence, to pour themselves out two or three times a week to the huge detriment of religion, because we will not allow an equal number of women to use their beautiful gifts—and woman's gift of speech has a peculiar quality and power, a special grace, and a point of view different from a man's. It is as if we refused to have any but bass and tenor voices in the church music and filled our choirs up with men who could not sing in tune rather than use the loveliest soprano voice.—Manchester (England) Guardian.

ENGLISH BUILDING AS IF WERE

TO BE FOUGHT FOR COUNTLESS YEARS—COMMANDERS IN TOUCH WITH WAR OFFICE.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Dec. 26.—Peace conversations and peace notes, however much of a flurry they may cause in the capitals of the world, have no effect upon the British armies. The work of war progresses, and one of the first impressions the visitor gets on a tour behind the British lines is the absolute permanence and thoroughness of the British war machine. There is no flimsy construction anywhere. It is as if the English were preparing to fight through countless years to come if necessary.

While built primarily for war efficiency, the telephone and telegraph lines, the railways and the motor highways the English have put into France will be left here when the war is over as a permanent legacy. The war railroads will in effect be an offset to the so-called strategic railways of the Germans, and will enable France to develop her northern country far more rapidly than otherwise would have been possible. Already the telephone and telegraph lines are linked up with the French official systems and represent a permanent extension of those facilities.

The telephone has played a wonderful part in the war. When a Canadian battalion made a daylight raid on 400 yards of German trenches a few days ago, each company commander in the raid had a telephone with him as he went into action, the signal men in charge unreeled the wires as they pressed forward. The instruments were connected with battalion headquarters back in a first line English dugout and there was not a moment during the offensive that the contact was not complete. Through the various telephonic links leading from battalion headquarters to brigade headquarters, to division headquarters, corps headquarters, general headquarters, army headquarters and thence across the English channel, it would have been possible, if so desired, for the company commanders in the thick of actual hand-to-hand fighting to talk direct from a German trench to the war office in London.

The trunk telephone lines erected by the British along the main highways to the war represent the latest improvement of equipment. At some points there are as many as thirty wires on a single line of poles, with a second line of sixteen wires being strung. From the peaceful, pastoral scenes of non-invaded France out toward the battle lines the wires reach in ever diminishing numbers until at last only a few strands may be laid along the ground—across that stretch of mud and shell-shattered desolation representing the gains of some recent "push."

Beware of Making Promises.
The habit of promising tends to weaken the will. It gives a false and transient kind of strength which is, essentially, weakness. The men that promise easily are certain to be easy breakers of promises. But how about people who sign a pledge or, under circumstances of dire extremity, promise to reform in some other way? There are many instances where by such means characters have been reformed for life. True, indeed, but the very extremity of the situation operates as a stimulus here. The promise lifts them out of themselves and enables them to reach another plane. To stay there requires, of course, persistent effort of all extending over a long period. One story of this kind unquestionably leads to other victories. But the process is slow and very different from the promise-making which through repeated failure becomes an indulgence, like rice.

ASK THE STATE TO CLAIM THE TITLE TO E. COAST CANAL

EAST COAST CHAMBER OF COM-MERCE IN SESSION AT TITUS-
VILLE OBJECTS TO THE CHARG-ING OF CANAL TOLLS.

TITUSVILLE, Jan. 11.—Resolutions were passed by the Florida East Coast chamber of commerce in session here urging that the attorney general file a suit against the Florida Coast Line Canal & Transportation company to cause the title of the East Coast Canal to revert to the state, and to prevent the canal company from charging tolls. The following was the preamble and resolution covering the toll matter:

"Whereas, the Florida Coast Line Canal & Transportation company has not and is not maintaining a canal at the depth and width provided for by contract under which it received lands from the state of Florida, be it

"Resolved, that attorney general be requested to file injunction or mandamus to prevent said company from collecting tolls at any point on the East Coast canal and requiring said company to remove all chains or other obstruction from its waterway."

Geo. B. Hills spoke supporting the following resolution:

"Whereas, a movement has been organized for the creation by special act of the next state legislature of a navigation district combining the salient features of the existing state drainage law of 1913, the road district law and the school district law, and having for its purpose the development of commercial waterways in the general territory embraced by the east coast the St. Johns, the Kissimmee, Oklawaha, and the Caloosahatchie valleys as parts thereof, be it

"Resolved, that the Florida East Coast chamber of commerce does endorse this movement."

The association endorsed the movement for the appropriation by the next legislature of $100,000 for the eradication of the cattle tick in Florida. A resolution was adopted asking for restrictive legislation against the Johnson grass, or any grass or hay that interferes with proper agricultural development.

A committee was appointed to prepare a bill for the revision of the tax laws, and a bill providing for a state marketing commission under the department of agriculture. The legislature was petitioned to submit to the people of the state a constitutional amendment fixing the tax rate for general funds of the state and county at not exceeding one and one-half per cent.

Way of Eagle and Whale.

There are two animals, says a writer in Pearson's Weekly, that puzzle naturalists more than any others. They are nature's submarine and aeroplane—the whale and the eagle. It is known that whales occasionally descend as far as 3,000 feet below the surface of the sea—a depth at which, from the pressure of water, they ought to be crushed flat. Why they are not injured naturalists have yet to discover. It is this pressure that prevents a modern submarine from descending more than some 300 feet. Eagles have been seen, through telescopes, to fly with apparent ease from 30,000 to 40,000 feet above sea level. At that height no human being can live, owing to the rarefaction of the air. How the birds live and fly at far greater heights than man can endure is another question still unanswered.

POWELL FAMILY ARE REAL ARTISTES

A small but appreciative audience witnessed the performance of the Powell family, acrobats, tumblers and wire artists at the Arcade rink last night. Their act is unquestionably the best act of its kind ever presented in Daytona.

The audience was well pleased with the performance of Master Powell in his aerial act, as well as Miss Powell in her performance on the flying ladder.

The cold weather was probably the cause of the small audience and with warmer weather, it is likely that a large crowd will greet the "Great Powells" tonight.

INTERESTING BREADS.

STEAMED CORN BREAD.—One cupful cornmeal, half cupful flour, one cupful buttermilk, half cupful sweet milk, one-fourth cupful molasses, one teaspoonful salt, one egg, one teaspoonful soda; mix in order given, beat all well, pour into well heated mold containing one teaspoonful hot fat, cover. Steam for three and a half hours, then bake in moderate oven for thirty minutes.

Seed Shortbread.—One pound of flour, a quarter of a pound of beef drippings, a quarter of a pound of moist sugar, two eggs, two spoonfuls of yeast and two ounces of caraway seeds. The flour and beef drippings should be rubbed well together, the moist sugar and other ingredients added and the whole baked in a suitable tin.

Scotch Shortbread.—Beat one pound butter to a cream and sift into it gradually two pounds flour, one-fourth pound sugar, one-half ounce caraway seeds, a few strips of candied orange peel and one ounce blanched sweet almonds chopped fine. Work the paste until it is very smooth, then cut it into six pieces, putting each on a square piece of writing paper; roll it square and about one inch thick. Pinch the edges, prick the surface and ornament it with a few pieces of the candied peel and bake about half an hour.

Graham Bread.—Two cupfuls of sour milk, one cupful of molasses, two level teaspoonfuls of soda, a little salt, two and one-half cupfuls graham flour, one cupful of cornmeal and one-half cupful of wheat flour. If made in one loaf steam three hours, but if made in small loaves steam two hours. Steam in five baking powder cans. You can bake it if you like, but it is better steamed. After the water in kettle begins to boil don't let it stop. Put cans in steamer and cover and put over a kettle of water.

TWO SOLDIERS MOURNED AS DEAD ARE IN PRISON CAMPS

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

PARIS, Dec. 30.—Auguste Bambert, a French reservist, reported missing August 24, 1914, and since mourned by his family, recently informed his wife that he was alive and well, a prisoner in the Sennelager camp in Germany.

Madame Raymond of Colonne-Ricourt, who has worn mourning for her husband since October, 1914, also just received a letter from him dated at a German prison camp. He was taken prisoner at Lille during the German advance. Having resisted even after capture, he was taken before a court martial and sentenced to confinement until the end of hostilities. Until now, it is alleged, he has been denied the privilege of communicating with his family.

Afraid of the Drain.

A small child of my acquaintance, having had the nosebleed for some time, was afraid that it wouldn't stop. While crying over the matter, her mother asked her the reason for her tears. Crying bitterly, she answered: "Well, mamma, I'll all waste."—Chicago Tribune.

Beacon Fires.

In these days, when it is possible to chat over the telephone with a person hundreds of miles away, we have no use for beacons in the old days they served a very useful purpose. When the Spanish Armada was sighted they carried the tidings in a succession of flares from Cornwall to the Cheviots, and thence to London. In the early part of the nineteenth century they were scattered all over the British Isles as a precaution against the threatened French invasion. The last occasions on which beacon fires were lighted were the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria and the coronation of Edward VII. On many of these medieval castles the fire-baskets in which the fires were lighted may still be seen.—London Tit-Bits.

SARAH BERNHARDT TO APPEAR AT ST. AUGUSTINE
NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

The engagement of the wonder-woman, Sarah Bernhardt, to St. Augustine, is an event of sufficient importance to cause nothing less than a furore among local theatergoers. She is easily the most renowned woman of the times, the most distinguished living actress, and in the opinion of many the greatest living woman. Her spirit is epic, idealistic and courageous to a degree; age does not deter her from her "place in the sun" or her being a vital living factor in a world-wide world. Sarah is still Sarah, and that, indeed, is a name to conjure with! The plays she offers on the night of January 16 are "Camille," "Du Theater au Champ d'Honneur" ("From the Theater to the Field of Honor"). In addition to these plays will be given the last act of "Cleopatra," a playlet by Maurice Bernhardt, Mme. Bernhardt's son, and Henri Cain. Also a one-act play entitled, "Rosalie."

Best Book on Good Breeding.
According to Dr. Samuel Johnson, the best book ever written on good breeding was "Il Cortegiano," by Castiglione. This little volume was first published by the Aldine Press at Venice in 1528, and before the close of that century more than 100 editions were issued in English, French, Spanish and German.

NOTED PUBLICITY SPEAKER TO ADDRESS AD. CLUB CONVENTION

MEETING WILL BE CALLED TO ORDER AT 2:00 O'CLOCK BY PRESIDENT TUTWILER — 300 DELEGATES EXPECTED.

Three hundred members of various Advertisers clubs of Florida are expected to be present at the state convention to be held in Daytona next Wednesday, according to advices from B. R. Kessler, secretary of the Associated Advertisers clubs of Florida. The convention will be called to order at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon by President C. A. Tutwiler, of Jacksonville. An address of welcome will be delivered by President F. M. Rowe, of the Daytona Advertisers' club and this will be responded to by President Tutwiler.

W. A. Thomson, director of publicity of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, will be one of the several prominent speakers who will address the convention.

The committee in charge of the entertainment has arranged a smoker and buffet luncheon in the evening for the visitors.

TAX CHECKS PAYABLE TO SMITH TO GO BACK

Many checks for taxes are being sent to the tax collector, T. Lee Osteen, at DeLand, but a great many of the checks are made payable to D. P. Smith, former collector. Mr. Smith has refused to allow Mr. Osteen to endorse his name to the checks and as a result the checks must be returned with a request that they be made payable to Mr. Osteen.

From Bad to Worse. New Boarder—"Our landlady seems to be deeply interested in the European war news." Old Boarder—"Well, I hope she doesn't contemplate the substitution of hash and salt pork for hash and prunes."

More Olive Oil. It has long been observed that those who treat olive oil as a common article of food and use it as such are generally stronger and healthier than those who do not. There are many ways of using the oil besides in salads. It may be used with good effect as a substitute for butter, in compounding the ordinary brown or white sauce. A teaspoonful of oil added, just before taking up, to every quart of split-pea, bean, potato or other soup, lacking fat, greatly increases its richness as well as its flavor. A child soon learns to like the taste of olive oil on bread in place of butter, while any kind of cold meat, that is to be re-cooked, is improved by having a little oil poured over it, at least, half an hour before heating.

Settling Chinese Labor Disputes. Though only recently developed, Chinese chambers of commerce play an important part in the affairs of their cities, and especially interesting is the manner in which labor disputes are settled by them. Reputable merchants settle their difficulties in their guilds, and when the guilds cannot settle them—that is, when they extend beyond the scope of a certain guild—chambers of commerce are appealed to and a committee is chosen from the chamber, or by the chamber's executive committee, to adjudicate the disputed matter. After a dispute is settled by the arbitration committee the parties meet at a festal board, the one awarded the decision paying the expenses of the feast.

Freedom and Fate. It is very curious to note that the words "experiment" and "experience" are related as mother and daughter. Experience issues out of experiment. The experience that you and I have in the ordinary course of life—our experience of work and its discipline, conduct and its requital, thought and its influence, spiritual adventure and its fruit of definite knowledge—are all within our own control. We are too much fatalist if we doubt this. Man is both free and fated, but both his freedom and his fate are written in his own nature. His freedom, indeed, is his fate. He is fated to determine a large part of his own experience, and free to do it.—Exchange.

STOCKHOLDERS OF MERCHANTS BANK HOLD MEETING

BANK INCREASES ITS SURPLUS FUND $15,000 AND ALL OLD OFFICIALS ARE REAPPOINTED FOR ANOTHER TERM.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Merchants bank was held yesterday afternoon and the directors who constituted the board last year were unanimously re-elected directors for the ensuing year. Although a 12-per cent dividend was declared and paid during the latter part of 1916 a sum of $15,000 was added to the bank's surplus fund.

After the stockholders' meeting the directors held an executive meeting and reappointed the officials of the bank, whose names and the offices they hold are as follows:

F. N. Conrad, president; C. M. Bingham, vice-president; S. A. Wood, vice-president; F. J. Niver, cashier; A. N. Otis, assistant cashier. These gentlemen, with E. T. Conrad, constitute the board of directors.

MCCOY TRIPS TO START NEXT WEEK

McCoy Bros. will start their winter season trips to Palm Beach on Thursday, January 18. These trips will be made once each week as in former winters, but will start from Daytona on Thursday instead of Tuesday. This will give the tourists a chance to spend Sunday at Palm Beach before returning to Daytona.

The St. Augustine trips commence on Tuesday, January 16, and will be run three times a week as before.

B. F. McCoy, in speaking to a News reporter, said that "The outlook at present promises a very fine season for us and if we had known that the weather was going to be so warm and pleasant we would have started the trips before now." Applications for and inquiries regarding the McCoy trips come in daily and many tourists will be pleased to know that the trips begin next week.

Will Woodworth and sister, Mrs. Borden, of Rochester, N. Y., arrived Thursday and are guests at the Despland hotel. Mr. Woodworth and Mrs. Borden were for a number of years regular Daytona winter visitors, but have not been here for the past three years. They have many friends here who will be pleased to know they have again returned to Daytona.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Duff and son, J. Le Roy Duff, of Arlington, Mass., are again here for the season and located with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hall at 22 Cedar street. Mr. and Mrs. Duff and son have spent several winter seasons in Daytona and have made numbers of friends who will be pleased to learn of their return for the season.

Mrs. Geo. J. Vande Vord came over from Mt. Dora, Thursday afternoon and joined Mr. Vande Vord, who had been here for a few days, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gustav Johnson, on West Volusia avenue. Mrs. Johnson is not well and Mr. Vande Vord sent word to Mrs. Vande Vord to come on that account. They expect to return to Mt. Dora the forepart of next week. Mr. Vande Vord motored over from Mt. Dora earlier in the week to look after property interests here.

Miss A. B. Cram, of Winchendon, Mass., was a pleasant caller at the News office this morning, coming in to request change of address of her paper from Winchendon, Mass., to Daytona. Miss Cram, who has been coming to this city in the winter season for a number of years past, is accompanied by a friend, Miss Ida Knight, of Providence, R. I. and Winchendon, and they are located with the Misses Abercrombie at 26 Myrtle avenue.

RECOMMENDED BANQUET AT WEST PALM BEACH

W. Balch, manager of the Anthony store in this city, returned this morning from West Palm Beach, where he had gone to attend a banquet given in that city Wednesday evening by the Anthonys. E. H. Balch, who is employed in the Anthony store, accompanied Mr. Balch, returning yesterday.

The affair was planned by E. M. Anthony, who is at the head of the profitable investments of the company, and A. P. Anthony, head of the company's banking interests, was manager.

The banquet, which was given at the Hotel Palms, was a most enjoyable affair and thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the company and their guests, fully four-score in number.

At the conclusion of the repast, Westmaster A. P. Anthony made a closing address and was followed by a number of speakers, prominent residents and business men of West Palm Beach and visitors attending the banquet. Among the speakers were J. C. Brown, of West Palm Beach, former mayor of this city, and well known here, and G. W. Balch and E. H. Brown of the Anthony store in this city.

Irish Wit Triumphant.

An Irish waiter named Kenny was noted for his wit and ready answers. A party of gentlemen who were staying at the hotel heard of Kenny's wit, and one of them made a bet that he could say something that Kenny couldn't answer at once. A bottle of champagne was ordered, and the one who had made the bet took hold of the bottle and commenced to open it. The cork came out with a bang and flew into Kenny's mouth. "Ah," he said, "that is not the way to cork!" Kenny then took the cork out of his mouth and replied: "No, but it's the way to 'Kill-Kill'."

Chinese Sportsmen.

Foreign sportsmen in China have always observed with curious interest the maneuvers of native fishermen and hunters. When, for instance, the fishermen gather a harvest of mussels and winkles, they go about it in an extraordinary manner. In the first place the fishermen are dressed like women, in flowing costume, consisting of a cowkin coat and stockings all in one piece with the hair turned inside. The only openings in the garment, into which the wearers have worked their feet foremost, are at the neck and cuffs, which are securely tied behind the men enter the water. The fishermen wade in up to their necks, and as their feet come in contact with any of the shellfish, which seem to be in beds, the men loosen them as they can from the muddy bottom of the creek and then bring up, the fish in a grasp net.

Banquet of Palmetto Club Most Brilliant in History of Club's Annual Events

Cordiality, sincerity and warmth of spirit reigned supreme at the Despland hotel on Thursday evening when nearly 200 members of the Palmetto club and invited guests gathered to partake of the club's annual banquet. It was a pleasurable affair and has gone down in history as the most brilliant ever given by the club.

Upholding the splendid reputation of the hotel for service and cuisine, Manager L. M. Waite and his able corps of department heads served a delicious and tempting feast. While the guests assembled in the lobby and during the dinner, a pleasing musical program was rendered by the Despland hotel orchestra with Chas. S. Thornton, director, and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Dinner was served promptly at seven o'clock. The menu as follows:

Grapefruit Cocktail
Creme Royale
Olives Celery Salted Almonds
Lobster a la Newburg
Tenderloin of Beef, Mushroom Sauce
Duchesse Potatoes
Cauliflower, Hollandaise
Roman Punch
Roast Philadelphia Squab
Julienned Potatoes Guava Jelly
Tomato Salad, Mayonnaise
Frozen Pudding
Fancy Cakes Macaroons
Roquefort Cheese Crackers
Demi Tasse

The tables were made festive with vases of cut flowers and greenery. A centre table laid for sixteen was arranged for the officers of the club at which sat the president, Mrs. Nathaniel C. Sears, Mrs. George A. Weaver, Mrs. Robert S. Maley, Mrs. William A. Roxby, Mrs. Charles V. Gailor, Mrs. George N. Chamberlin and invited guests.

Following the dinner Mrs. Sears, as toastmistress, welcomed the members and guests with an appropriate toast. Toasts by Mrs. Henry Mitchell, chairman of the Philanthropic department; Mrs. Howard Y. Stillman, of the Literature department; Mrs. Celeste Hinks, of the Civic department, and Mrs. W. E. Hitchcock, of the Music department, were charmingly given. A soprano solo by Mrs. W. Redwood Wharton was enjoyed followed by an encore, with Mrs. Randall as accompanist.

Interesting remarks were made by Mayor Charles M. Bingham, Robert Holmes and William B. Hatch which enlivened the festivities. The singing of Auld Lang Syne in chorus by the members and guests closed the program.

A great deal of creditable mention is due Miss Adelaide Young, chairman of the arrangements, who overlooked no detail which made the banquet of 1917 a social function long to remember.

JOHN KNOWLES PAINE WAS SUBJECT OF THE MUSICAL
TODAY AT PALMETTO CLUB

John Knowles Paine, composer, was the subject of the fourth Friday morning musicale which was given in the Palmetto clubhouse this morning. Mrs. M. P. Cornwall was leader of the musician's melodies and compositions, who, by her splendidly arranged program carried the listeners through the best of his works.

Miss Lee Bowers' paper told of the composer as a man, his exceptional ability and his characteristics. Mrs. J. E. Rawlings related a story of his work, of his laying of the foundation of the music department at Harvard college, which, in itself, is sufficient of eternal praise, the growth of which has been phenomenal. The Centennial hymn, his composition, sung by a quartette made up of Mrs. G. B. Hayward, Mrs. W. E. Hitchcock, W. J. McDonald and R. L. Evernden, portrayed the composer's ability in soul-inspiring harmony. Miss Ruth Lyon, who has exceptional ability in pianoforte played "Wayside Flowers." Mr. Evernden, in a rich baritone sang the "Mating Song," which was fully appreciated. The two "Romances" Op. 12 and Op. 32, were played by Miss Jolley and Miss Briggs.

An intimate touch to the program was given by a letter written by Mrs. C. M. Wilder, entitled "The Parrot and the Composer" read by Mrs. Cornwall. Mrs. Wilder in her girlhood days spent her summers at Appledore, the largest of the Isles of Shoals off the coast of New Hampshire, and it was here that the composer had a summer home. It was here that "Polly" made herself present at all times by her chatter and whistling. Mr. Paine eulogized "Polly" in his "Fugue" played by Mr. Cornwall which carries through it a one tune which "Polly" always whistled, concluding the program.

The next musicale will be given Friday, January 26th. Horatio W. Parker, composer, Miss Armeta Pierson.

America's greatest violinist, Albert Spaulding will be heard at the New Daytona theatre early in February under the auspices of the Palmetto club, announcement of which was made at the morning musicale on Friday morning.

The Jewelry Store Where Little Things Count

The principal reason why we have been able to do some pretty big things is that we know the value of little things—taking care of them.

With us, there are no unimportant transactions, none beneath us—for detail is what counts. It is important to us, no matter what you buy, that you get the best satisfaction for every dollar you spend here.

America Has Passed Most Stirring Year

Photo No. 5 by Mutual Film Corporation; others by American Press Association.

Pictorial Phases of Year's Events at Home

1, James Whitcomb Riley, poet, died; 2, submarine Deutschland; 3-5, President Wilson and Charles Evans Hughes; 6, Congressman William C. Adamson, sponsor for eight hour bill; 7, Francisco Villa, bandit leader; 8, General Pershing, leader of punitive expedition; 9, soldiers leaving for border.

By GEORGE L. KILMER.

THE chief events in this country during the twelve months just closed have been the national election and the situation on the border of Mexico. The prospects of complications with Germany over submarine warfare assumed serious aspects early in the year. The whole country has had an unusually prosperous year. The prices of all kinds of produce and of many household necessities have advanced, in some cases, beyond all precedent, with the result that the cost of living has increased on an average of 33 1-3 per cent or more.

Villa's Columbus Raid.
The situation on the Mexican border became acute early in the spring, when a body of Mexicans led by General Francisco Villa crossed into United States territory on the 9th of March and raided Columbus, N. M. Eighteen United States soldiers were killed in repelling the attack. This foray halted temporarily proceedings looking to a favorable understanding between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico headed by Carranza. It was about this time that rival factions in Mexico were aiming to defeat Carranza's efforts to restore order. Following Villa's raid, troops of the United States army were rushed from their stations inland to reinforce the slender garrisons which the United States had maintained at important points on the Mexican border since the outbreak against the government of Porfirio Diaz five years ago.

The Affair at Carrizal.
A "punitive expedition" was ordered to cross the Rio Grande and eliminate Villa and his band. On March 15 Colonel Dorr and General Pershing were on Mexican soil, proceeding south in two columns, Dorr's in the lead. On March 20 Dorr's column defeated 500 Villistas, killing thirty. Other actions between United States troops of Pershing's column and the Mexicans followed. Carranza immediately began to object to the presence of United States troops on Mexican soil and asked for their withdrawal. At the end of April General Obregon met General H. L. Scott and General Funston at Juarez to discuss the situation on the border. Nothing came of it. A month later Carranza asked for immediate withdrawal, alleging bad faith on the part of the United States.

The first clash between Carranzistas and United States troops occurred in June. On the 16th General Trevino informed General Pershing that a movement of United States troops east, west or south from the positions then occupied by them would be considered a hostile act. About that time President Wilson called out the militia of the whole country for service on the Mexican border and notified Mexico that American troops would remain solely to protect the United States border. The next day two troops of the United States cavalry were attacked outside of Carrizal, ninety miles south of Juarez. Mexican General Felix Gomez was killed, also Captain C. T. Boyd and Lieutenant Adair of the Tenth cavalry. The affair resulted from an attempt by the cavalry to march westward in defiance of General Trevino's notice of the 16th. Twenty-three troopers were made prisoners by the Mexicans, thirteen killed and sixteen missing. President Wilson demanded the immediate release of the prisoners and ordered the militia rushed to the border. The prisoners were delivered at El Paso three days after the president's demand. Early in September an American-Mexican joint commission met to confer upon the matters in dispute between the government of the United States and Mexico. This joint commission signed a protocol Nov. 24. Meanwhile, one day before the protocol was signed, Villistas attacked Chihuahua City and were defeated by Carranzistas. Two days later they again attacked and occupied part of the city, but were expelled on Dec. 1 by Carranza forces.

Election and Politics.
Following his nomination for the presidency by the Republican convention in June, Justice Charles E. Hughes resigned from the supreme court bench and immediately entered the canvass against President Woodrow Wilson, who was renominated by the Democratic convention. Theodore Roosevelt declined the Progressive nomination and supported Hughes. The campaign was noted for exceptional vigor, and the outcome was uncertain even for some days after the election. Victory for Wilson was not conceded until the count in California gave him a safe majority in the electoral college.

Second only in interest to the presidential canvass were the participation of women in campaign work and the result of the anti-saloon voting. With galas made, it is estimated that nearly seven-eighths of the territory is now under "no license" rules. Among the political events of the year was the passage of the Adamson eight hour law for railroad employees, to take effect Jan. 1, 1917. The act was passed when the nation confronted a general strike of railroad men which would have paralyzed traffic. A commission was appointed to investigate the working of the law.

Neutral Rights.
The president at the end of February asked congress to take action on the question of the arming of merchantmen traversing the war zone and other points at issue regarding submarine warfare. Germany had "recognized responsibility" for the loss of neutral lives on the Lusitania in February, but the general aspect of the submarine issue was one to cause uncertainty as to safety of neutral lives on the high seas. Both houses acted upon separate resolutions, practically leaving the matter in the hands of the executive. Senate vote was 68 to 14; house, 276 to 142.

Merchant Submarines.
A new phase of the submarine question involving the United States came up when the German merchant submarine Deutschland arrived at Baltimore with a cargo of German goods. Although the Deutschland was not armed, the entente powers asked the United States to treat her class as warships, which the state department declined to do. The vessel sailed for Germany in August and arrived at New London on a return trip Nov. 1. Meanwhile on Oct. 7 the armed German submarine U-53 entered Newport harbor, coming direct from Wilhelmshaven. She received the usual privileges of a warship in a neutral port. Next day, off Nantucket shoals, United States coast, she torpedoed and sank three British and two neutral ships, giving the warning as previously pledged by Germany for unarmed ships. All on board escaped. The United States treated the matter as simply an extension of the naval war zone and notified the allied powers on Oct. 10 that this country would continue to apply existing rules of warfare to submarines.

British Trade Blacklist.
Involved with the great problems of neutral rights and illegal measures affecting them was the announcement by Great Britain in July of the blacklist of American firms which carried on trade with Germany. Trade with firms so listed, by merchants of the allied powers, was prohibited. This called forth a protest by the United States, which elicited the reply that the prohibition is a local regulation and not within the purview of international law.

Vagaries of weather began in the winter and continued up to autumn. On Jan. 27 the temperature was 66-69, a record, in New York. The same day there was a blizzard on the Pacific coast and in the Rocky mountains. Aug. 14 was the coldest for that day known in the east in forty-six years, the thermometer touching 53. The latest real snowstorm known in New England in fifty years came on April 28. In August the United States concluded a treaty with Denmark to purchase the Danish West India islands for $25,000,000. The Panama canal was reopened to traffic in April after being closed for several months by obstructions in the Gatun cut. In June the epidemic among children known as infantile paralysis broke out in New York city and spread to neighboring districts. During August the death toll exceeded 2,000, and the epidemic began to subside.

Bigger Army and Navy.
During the year congress appropriated nearly $700,000,000 for national defense. On July 1 the army reorganization act of June 3 went into effect. It increased the strength of the regular army and federalized the national guard, placing it under the pay and control of the national government. The new law authorized a war strength approximately 200,000 regulars and a national guard maximum of 400,000. The defense legislation authorized early construction of four huge battle-ships and four big battle cruisers. July floods in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina caused a loss of life estimated at fifty and property loss of $15,000,000. In August a cloud-burst and flood in West Virginia destroyed sixty-six lives and property valued at $5,000,000. An explosion of European war munitions in New York harbor caused damage amounting to $15,000,000.

Among the deaths of notable people during the year were General Victoriano Huerta, J. T. Trowbridge, Robert Burns Wilson, Clara Louisa Kellogg, Rev. Dr. Timothy Dwight, James J. Hill, Henry Green, James Whitcomb Riley, John P. St. John, Horace White, Seth Low, Frank Dempster Sherman, Charles Taze Russell, John D. Archbold and Ferdinand Lowell. The nomination of Louis D. Brandeis to the supreme court bench caused criticism, but he was confirmed June 3. Barthold's statue of Liberty Enlightening the World was first illumined by an electrical flood of light, which is to be permanent, on the 2d of December.

Plaid Chinese Invented Printing.
Those who believe printing to have been invented in Europe during the fourteenth century may have been surprised to read of Cambridge university having acquired "the works of the Chinese philosopher, Liu Tsung Yuan, printed in 1167." China has been credited with anticipating not a few modern inventions, but her claim to have discovered the art of printing centuries before its first adoption in Europe is beyond dispute. An edition of most of the Chinese classics was printed by means of wood blocks in 922 A. D., and movable type is said to have been invented by a blacksmith, Pi Shing, in the eleventh century.

ORTONA OFFICE WILL BE OPENED IN DAYTONA

G. H. Bill, of Hartford, Conn., who, in company with George Salmon, of the same city, is engaged in the sales of Ortona property for Simpson & Pope, was a pleasant caller at the News office Thursday afternoon. Mr. Bill stated that an office would be opened in the near future in this city, the office in the Conrad-Bullard building, corner of Beach street and Orange avenues, recently vacated by the Florida Engineering and Construction company, having been rented for that purpose. Messrs. Bill and Salmon will be in charge of the office and will at all times be pleased to take interested persons to Ortona and show them its many advantages as a place for winter residence. At present communication with Ortona is by automobile, but later the launch will be put into service as it was last season and visitors will then be taken either by automobile or by boat, as they may prefer. Mr. Bill said the prospects for the sale of lots this season at Ortona was very promising. He said he had just been showing the property to H. F. Williams and F. B. Cobb, of Springfield, Mass., who were greatly pleased with the place and its excellent location and will purchase lots. Improvements continue to be made at Ortona and this season will undoubtedly see a marked development of this select residence district.

Sometimes Hard to Tell.

A little girl, who had been given some Paris fashion books to look at said to her aunt, after looking at them a long time: "Auntie, are these really fashions, or are they just making fun of fashions?"

Animal Justice.

Some of the most interesting cases of animal justice are found among the birds, and many tales are told of these trials by uninvited and unsuspected human guests. It is said that a stork, whose morals were sadly out of repair once appropriated to himself the companion of a neighbor. The injured lady, with great dispatch, called together the storks of the district and haled her abductor before this tribunal. He was found guilty and sentenced, and the court immediately turning executioner fell upon him and tore him to pieces.

We Take Pride and Pleasure in Showing the Stranger the Many Beauties of Our City!

This year we are surrounded by the most beautiful drives, and of them all probably the most varied is the Ocean View belt line drive. Cross the river to the beach and turn north to—but step in and get one of our handsome booklets. It is a pretty souvenir of the trip and contains an accurate map of the road, all the way around the head of the Halifax river.

These days are too beautiful to neglect.

Glad to give you further information or any assistance we can.

TWENTY DOLLARS FOR A DAY'S SOJOURN

Twenty dollars for a day's sojourn in Daytona isn't bad. That's what a fat, slick advertorist garnered Wednesday on a "notice to guests" scheme. Shortly after the Daily News was on the street exposing his methods he quit work, went to the proprietor of a hotel whose name he had been using, gave her two dollars, which he said was ten per cent of what he had received, and stated that he was leaving town. "I will mail you the notice in about a week," he said. "The Advertising club is after me and I am going south." Whether or not he was "going south" with the money secured here he didn't say. And whether or not the notices are to be mailed is also a matter of question. The fact remains that some of the local merchants still fall for the wiles of the advertorist and paid the price Wednesday. The Daytona Advertiser also urges all merchants who are approached by such solicitors to phone either the president or secretary so steps may be taken to check his operations.

Not Winners.

"What?" queried the very young man. "do you think of the man who honestly tell us of our faults?" "Oh," replied the sage, "they usually mean well, but always run behind their ticket at the police."

To Drop Medicine.

Shake the bottle as to loosen the cork. With the wet end of the cork moisten the edges of the mouth of the bottle, then holding the cork under the mouth, let the fluid pass over the cork in dropping.

The True Friend.

A true friend embraces our objects as his own. We feel another mind bent on the same end, enjoying it, ensuring it, reflecting it, and delighting in our devotion to it.—William Ellery Channing.

WILBUR BY THE SEA

WILBUR-BY-THE-SEA, Jan. 15. — Mrs. H. F. Whidden and son, Harold Whidden, are guests at the Toronita hotel. They drove from Savannah, Ga., in their car. Mrs. Whidden and her son will soon move to the Ball cottage where they will spend the winter.

The Toronita hotel is entertaining Mrs. J. G. Lowery, a prominent lady of Pittsburg. Mrs. Lowery spent her winters in St. Petersburg but she decided to visit the east coast and is highly delighted here.

Miss Frances D. Piper will serve tea in the sun parlor afternoons, throughout the season. These teas are very popular and many automobile parties from Daytona stop and enjoy the hospitality of the ideal hostelry.

Among the prominent season guests at the Toronita hotel is Miss Mary L. Fellows. Miss Fellows, who is the proprietor of the Acomex lodge, a fashionable hotel at Falmouth Heights, Mass., is making her second visit to Florida, her former visit being made with a party of friends on a yacht. Miss Fellows is very popular in Wilbur-by-the-Sea and her many friends hope she, too, will build a pretty winter residence here, so they may be assured that she will always be with them winters.

Wilbur-by-the-Sea now boasts of a well equipped laundry, which is sanitary and modern. C. A. Hurd, a guest at the Toronita hotel, who is also president of the Hurd Laundry company of Beverly, has established an ideal system.

Miss Frances Piper is receiving several requests from those who are desirous of giving banquets and dances at the hotel. The ideal location of this hotel and pleasant surroundings make this beautiful spot a much desired place to entertain. This hotel is noted for its unexcelled dinners served by chefs who rank among the best.
